THE HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE WORKING GROUP
NEWSLETTER

Volume 1, Number 3
October 1993

Part I

Here is the third issue of the HOPOS Newsletter. As always, we are distributing the electronic version of the Newsletter in four separate parts

(including this table of contents as Part I) in order not to fill your mailbox with overly long messages. All four parts will be mailed at the same time.

Among the items to which you might want to pay special attention is the call for papers for a special HOPOS session at the October 1994 joint PSA/HSS/4S meeting in New Orleans, this in Part II (item 3.a). We are happy to distribute a hard-copy version of the Newsletter to those who request it, but in order to save on expenses, we would like to deliver it to as many people as possible in this electronic form; so please bear with us as we experiment with this new form of communication.

THE HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE WORKING GROUP
NEWSLETTER

Volume 1, Number 3
October 1993

Part II

1. WHAT'S NEW WITH HOPOS?

HOPOS continues to thrive. With HOPOS-sponsored sessions at this November's History of Science Society meeting in Sante Fe, and at next year's joint History of Science Society/Philosophy of Science Association/Society for the Social Studies of Science meeting in New Orleans, and with more such sessions being planned, HOPOS is starting to become a presence on the professional scene. The discussion list, HOPOS-L, continues to be a lively forum for the exchange of information and ideas, counting now some 425 subscribers. Planning continues for a special HOPOS issue of one of the leading journals, and preliminary discussions have been opened that may well lead to the establishment of a HOPOS monograph/reprint series at one of the major academic publishers in the US.

2. A HOPOS MONOGRAPH/REPRINT SERIES?

Earlier this fall, the HOPOS-L list buzzed for a few days with an exchange prompted by the discovery that Rolf George's translation of Carnap's AUFBAU had gone out of print. As we compared notes, we discovered a goodly number of such titles that have gone out of print. This led to our opening discussions with a major academic press in the US about the possibility of a HOPOS monograph/reprint series; the press is receptive, and we are now preparing a formal proposal. You can help us by sending us information about additional titles that you would like to see reprinted in such a series; please also send us any other suggestions you think we should consider in preparing the proposal. Suggestions should be directed to either Don Howard (at the address given above) or Dan Garber (at the address given below in item 3a.)

3. UPCOMING HOPOS-SPONSORED EVENTS AND ACTIVITIES.

a. HOPOS SESSIONS AT THE OCTOBER 1994 JOINT PSA/HSS/4S MEETING.

HOPOS is planning to sponsor one or more sessions at the joint meetings of the Philosophy of Science Association, History of Science Society, and the Society for Social Studies of Science in New Orleans, October 13-16 1994. All are invited to submit proposals in any area of the history of the philosophy of science. The program of symposia for the PSA part of the joint meeting has just been announced, and we're happy to say that one HOPOS symposium will be included:

FOUNDATIONAL PROJECTS IN MATHEMATICS AT THE BEGINNING OF THE 20TH CENTURY IN THEIR SYSTEMATIC AND HISTORICAL CONTEXTS. To be chaired by Alan Richardson. The participants will be: Michael Hallett, Peter Clark, William Demopoulos, and Janet Folina.

CALL FOR PAPERS FOR HOPOS SESSIONS AT THE HSS PART OF THE 1994 MEETING: We will also be submitting a proposal for at least one HOPOS symposium on the HSS part of the program. Those interested in participating should send a brief abstract and a short cv (about half a page) to:

Daniel Garber

Department of Philosophy

University of Chicago

1050 E. 59th St.

Chicago, IL 60637

(email: garb@midway.uchicago.edu)

Email submissions are especially encouraged. The deadline for submission is October 31, 1993. Individual papers may be submitted; we will try to match such papers with others of similar themes to form one or more coherent sessions. Alternatively, groups of scholars can submit complete sessions to the program committee for possible inclusion. Other members of the program committee include Tom Oberdan (oberdat@clemsn.bitnet) and Antonia Soulez. If you have any questions, comments, or suggestions, please contact any member of the program committee.

b. HOPOS SESSION AT THE NOVEMBER 1993 HSS MEETING.

HOPOS has proposed and had accepted two HOPOS-sponsored sessions for the November 1993 History of Science Society Meeting in Santa Fe, New Mexico, 11-

14 November 1993. They are:

1. DESCARTES, MECHANISM, AND NATURE. Friday, 12 November, 4:00-6:00 P.M.

Chair: Dan Garber

Brian Baigrie, "Descartes' Science and the Illusion of Self-Initiated Motion."

Andre Gombay, "'The More Perfect the Maker, the More Perfect the Product."

Calvin Normore, "Naturally and Mechanically: Descartes and Some Scholastics on the Limits of Nature."

2. PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE IN THE EARLY TWENTIETH CENTURY. Sunday, 14 November, 9:00-11:00 A.M.

Chair: Roger Ariew

George Gale, "The Amazing Epistemological Debate of 1937."

Gary Hardcastle, "S.S. Stephens and the Science of Science."

Alan Richardson, "Toward a History of Rational Reconstruction."

Roger Ariew, "Pierre Duhem and the German Mind."

It still not too late to make plans to come to Santa Fe in November. It's a lovely place and a lovely time of year, the perfect setting for a gathering of

c. FUTURE ACTIVITIES.

We continue to welcome suggestions for other venues at which HOPOS can sponsor sessions; we are especially interested in finding HOPOS venues more convenient for our European members. If you know of a forthcoming meeting where HOPOS participation would make sense, or if you would like to help organize a HOPOS session, please let us know.

4. OTHER FORTHCOMING EVENTS.

a. OCTOBER 1993 WORKSHOP ON ORIGINS OF LOGICAL POSITIVISM, UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

The Minnesota Center for the Philosophy of Science is sponsoring a Workshop on the Origins of Logical Positivism, October 21-24, 1993, at the Holiday Inn Metrodome in Minneapolis and the HHH Center. The preliminary schedule is as follows:

Thursday, October 21

Session I (7-10 PM) -- GENERAL BACKGROUND.

Peter Galison, Nancy Cartwright

[Holiday Inn Metrodome-Avalon Room]

Friday, October 22

Session II (8:30-11 AM) -- EARLY LOGICAL EMPIRICISM: PHILOSOPHICAL

INFLUENCES. Alan Richardson, Thomas Ricketts

[Holiday Inn Metrodome-Avalon Room]

Session III (12:15-3 PM) -- EARLY LOGICAL EMPIRICISM: SCIENTIFIC

INFLUENCES. Don Howard, Thomas Ryckman

[Holiday Inn Metrodome-Avalon Room]

STUDIES IN SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY COLLOQUIUM (3:30-5 PM)

Peter Galison: "Artificial Reality: Simulations between Theory and Experiment."

[210 Physics Building]

Saturday, October 23

Session IV (9-12 AM) -- LOGIC IN LOGICAL EMPIRICISM.

Warren Goldfarb, Richard Creath

[Hubert H. Humphrey Center-Room 180A/B]

Session V (2-5 PM) -- EMPIRICISM IN LOGICAL EMPIRICISM.

Thomas Oberdan, Joia Lewis-Turner

[Hubert H. Humphrey Center-Room 180A/B]

Sunday, October 24

Session VI (9-12 AM) -- THE OTHER VIENNA CIRCLE.

Michael Friedman, Thomas Uebel

[Hubert H. Humphrey Center-Room 180A/B]

b. JANUARY 1994 INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE DEATH OF HERMANN VON HELMHOLTZ.

The Forschungsschwerpunkt Wissenschaftsgeschichte und Wissenschaftstheorie (Berlin) announces a conference on Hermann von Helmholtz, to be held January 4-7, 1994, at Schloss Ringberg, Tegernsee (Bavaria). The preliminary schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, January 4

Session I (9 AM-12:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ, EXPERIMENTER AND PHYSIOLOGIST. Frederick Holmes, Kathryn Olesko, Richard Kremer, Timothy Lenoir

Session II (2-5:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ ON MECHANICS AND THE MECHANICAL WORLD VIEW. Fabio Bevilacqua, Hartmut Hecht, Gregor Schiemann, Lorenz Krueger

Wednesday, January 5

Session III (9-10:30 AM) -- HELMHOLTZ AND THERMODYNAMICS. Stefan Wolff, Norton Wise

Session IV (11 AM-12:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ ON ELECTRICITY.

Olivier Darrigol, Jed Buchwald

Session V (2-5:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ ON GEOMETRY.

Renate Wahsner, Siegfried Paul, Volkmar Schueller, Martin Carrier

Thursday, January 6

Session VI (9 AM-12:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ'S EPISTEMOLOGY.

Michael Heidelberger, Ulrich Roeseberg, John Erpenbeck, Wolfgang Bialas

Session VII (2-3:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ ON TONE AND MUSIC.

Erwin Hiebert, Burghard Weiss

Session VIII (4-5:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ AS A SOCIAL FIGURE.

Andreas Laass, Petra Werner

Friday, January 7

Session IX (9 AM-12:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ, ORGANIZER OF SCIENCE.

Walter Kaiser, Horst Kant, Dieter Hoffmann, Annette Vogt

Session X (2-2:45 PM) HELMHOLTZ AS AN HISTORICAL FIGURE.

Wolfgang Kuettler

Session XI (2:45-5:30 PM) -- HELMHOLTZ, NATURAL SCIENTIST AND PHILOSOPHER. Catherine Chevalley, Don Howard, David Cahan

c. MAY 1994 INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS HENRI POINCARÉ, NANCY, FRANCE.

ACERHP, the Archive-Centre d'Etudes et de Recherche Henri-Poincaré, is sponsoring an international congress devoted to the work of Henri Poincaré, 14-18 May 1994 in Nancy, France. The invited speakers include: H. Barreau, F.E. Browder, Chr. Chauvire, U. Da Silva, A. Dahan, P. De Rouilhan, M. Detlefsen, J. Dhombres, C. Engel, P. Eymard, J. Folina, M. Friedman, J.

5. GOPHER-HOPOS RESOURCES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI-KANSAS CITY.

The University of Missouri-Kansas City sponsors an electronic archive called Science Studies. Archived material covers a wide range of disciplines, including history, philosophy, and sociology of science, science education, and other related areas. Several electronic texts of wide interest are available, including Fuller and Raman's STS Curricular Guide. Additional topics include job offerings, meetings, e-lists, including HOPOS (see especially the back issues of the HOPOS Newsletter archived here), and pedagogical information.

Gopher service (named after the mascot of the University of Minnesota, which developed the gopher interface) is extremely easy to use. One of the easiest ways to reach the UMKC gopher is simply to type

`gopher kasey.umkc.edu`

at your main system prompt. If your computer service has installed the gopher software, you will immediately have the UMKC root gopher screen show up on your display. Simply move the cursor to Science Studies, do a carriage-return, and you're there. If you find something you'd like to download, you can easily do so by following your system's instructions for downloading or receiving files.

Recent additions to kasey include the text of Oxford University's Tutorial Guide to the Philosophy of Science, announcements of postdocs in various science studies fields, news of several meetings and jobs, and, in the directory /Other E-sources and Archives, compilations of Net resources for Physics, Biology and Economics.

Suggestions or material for posting may be sent to either George Gale, ggale@vax1.umkc.edu or Tim McGrew, mcgrew@jaguar.csc.wsu.edu. We strongly encourage HOPOS members to submit syllabi to kasey's Pedagogy Archives. Mail disks to the address listed below.

Kasey also offers direct gopher link to the International Philosophy

Preprint Exchange, at Chiba University, Japan. Philosophy of science holdings in the IPPE archive are growing; HOPOS members especially are encouraged to submit drafts of papers or comments on already-archived papers to the Exchange. If you would prefer to have your work prepared for submission by George Gale, please send a *plain text* via disk or e-mail to him. US mail address: Department of Philosophy, University of Missouri, Kansas City MO 64110.

6. HOPOS PEDAGOGY ARCHIVE.

The HOPOS Pedagogy Archive is now accessible at kasey.umkc.edu (for instructions on access via gopher, see the previous article). A number of syllabi for courses at all levels have been posted, but there is room for many more. Right now we are soliciting syllabi that would be useful to people teaching philosophy or history of science--or other relevant species of science studies--at any level from general undergraduate courses to focused, graduate level seminars. We hope later to expand the archive to include other pedagogical tools (classroom examples, bibliographies, reading questions on various texts, etc).

pedagogical tools (classroom examples, bibliographies, reading questions on various texts, etc).

various texts, etc).

To help us organize these materials in the most useful way, contributors should fill out the brief header which follows. Then simply append the syllabus to the header (in ASCII text, of course--the simplest possible way) and send it to George Gale at ggale@vax1.umkc.edu or to Tim McGrew at mcgrew@jaguar.csc.wsu.edu. Alternatively, you may send a diskette containing the syllabus (preferably in ASCII format, but any standard wordprocessor format will do) to: Professor George D. Gale; Department of Philosophy; 222 Cocke-fair; University of Missouri-Kansas City; Kansas City, Missouri 64110-2499. We will compile all of the contributions, and when a suitable number is reached, they will be placed in the gopher-accessible archive at UMKC.

7. RELATED ORGANIZATIONS.

We are continuing a regular feature with this third issue of the Newsletter, profiles of other organizations, institutes, programs, and their sponsored publications, in cases where their aims are somewhat similar to or overlap with those of HOPOS. Please let us know of other such groups or programs that you would like to see profiled in future issues of our newsletter.

a. INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH IN CLASSICAL PHILOSOPHY AND SCIENCE

The Institute for Research in Classical Philosophy and Science is a non-profit educational corporation established in late 1983 by scholars at various academic institutions in Canada, Europe, and the United States. Its primary purpose is to enhance higher education and to promote research in both the sciences and the humanities, by fostering and supporting scholarly study concerning the history of the interaction between science and its interpretation in the various societies and language groups constituting Western and Near Eastern culture.

To meet this goal the Institute facilitates the dissemination of research and promotes cooperation between scholars whose work touches on the study of pre-modern science and its interpretation in their social, cultural, and intellectual contexts. Thus, in addition to sponsoring research as well as international conferences, colloquia, and other forms of scholarly communication, the Institute has established a program of publication that includes translations, monographs, thematic collections of essays, and bibliographies.

If you have any questions about the Institute and its various programs, or if you should like to support the Institute's activities, please contact the Director, Dr. Alan C. Bowen, 3 Nelson Ridge Road, Princeton, NJ 08540-7423, USA; TEL. 609-466-2098; Email: acbowen@pucc (BITNET); acbowen@pucc.Princeton.edu (Internet).

8. JOURNALS, BOOKS, AND SERIES.

If you have information about books journals or series that might be of special interest to HOPOS members, especially new publishing ventures, please let us know so that we can publicize them in the pages of the HOPOS Newsletter. In this issue we feature a new book series.

a. SOURCES AND STUDIES IN THE HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY OF CLASSICAL SCIENCE

The Institute for Research in Classical Philosophy and Science and Garland Publishing are pleased to announce a new series of publications, Sources and Studies in the History and Philosophy of Classical Science.

This series (which combines Sources and Studies) focuses on the classical sciences (e.g., mathematics, astronomy, harmonics, optics, mechanics, biology, and medicine) in Western and Near Eastern culture from antiquity to the 1700s, the time of Newton and the beginning of the modern era.

Books in this series aim to make fundamental texts in the history of the classical sciences accessible to the modern reader, by means of translations and interpretations that satisfy the requirements of specialists but still address the needs of non-specialists and general readers. The Sources include editions and English translations of treatises in the classical sciences and of treatises in which these sciences are subjected to critical examination. These texts are supplied with general introductions and philological/technical commentaries, and supplemented by annotated bibliographies and lexica. The Studies present the latest results of historical research and interpretation in analyzing the classical sciences, their place in their contemporary intellectual culture, and their impact on subsequent philosophical and scientific thinking. This series is intended for readers interested in the history and philosophy of science in the Greco-Roman and Near Eastern worlds and their legacy until the modern era, as well as in intellectual history, and philology.

HOPOS maintains an electronic discussion list, HOPOS-L, for the exchange of information and ideas of interest to HOPOS members. If you would like to subscribe, send a one-line message of the form

SUBSCRIBE HOPOS-L Your Name

to LISTSERV@UKCC.UKY.EDU. New subscribers automatically receive a welcoming message listing the basic commands and other information that you need to know in order participate in a discussion list. Messages posted to HOPOS-L are archived monthly. You can get a list of archive files by sending the command

INDEX HOPOS-L to LISTSERV@UKCC.UKY.EDU. And you can retrieve a specific archive file by sending the command `GET HOPOS-L LOGYYMM` to the same address, where "YY" and "MM" refer, respectively, to the year and month of the archive file you are requesting (thus, April's archive is HOPOS-L LOG9304).

Questions,

problems, or requests for help with HOPOS-L should be sent off-list directly to Don Howard, einphil@ukcc.uky.edu.

10. ABOUT HOPOS.

a. WHAT IS HOPOS?

HOPOS is an informal, international working group of scholars who share an interest in promoting serious, scholarly research on the history of the philosophy of science and related topics in the history of the natural and social sciences, logic, philosophy, and mathematics. We interpret this statement of shared interest broadly, meaning to include all historical periods and diverse methodologies. We aim to promote historical work in a variety of ways, including the sponsorship of meetings and conference sessions, the publication of special issues of journals, the dissemination of information about libraries, archives, and collections, and, as more ambitious projects perhaps become feasible, the preparation of bibliographies and finding guides.

b. ORGANIZATION.

HOPPOS being an informal organization, there are no elected or appointed committees or officers. Day-to-day responsibility resides with a self-selecting steering committee, whose members include:

Gary Hatfield, University of Pennsylvania (hatfield@linc.cis.upenn.edu).

Don Howard, University of Kentucky
(einphil@ukcc.uky.edu).

Anne Mylott, Indiana University (mylotta@ucs.indiana.edu).

Alan Richardson, University of California-San Diego
(richrdsn@helix.ucsd.edu).

A program committee for HOPPOS-sponsored events currently includes:

Dan Garber, University of Chicago (garb@midway.uchicago.edu).

Tom Oberdan, Clemson University

(oberdat@clemsn).

Antonia Soulez, Universite de Paris XII

And, finally, responsibility for editing and distributing the newsletter is shared among:

George Gale, University of Missouri-Kansas City

(ggale@umkcvax1).

Don Howard, University of Kentucky

(einphil@ukcc.uky.edu).

Eric Palmer, University of Kentucky

(epalm00@ukcc.uky.edu).

Alan Richardson, University of California-San Diego

(richrdsn@helix.ucsd.edu).

David Stump, University of San Francisco

(stumpd@alm.admin.usfca.edu)

Volunteers are welcome to help with any of these activities. We need, especially, more help from among the many European members of HOPOS, preferably members who have access to email. If you would like to help, please contact a member of the relevant committee.
